DEAR EDUCATOR

Welcome to the 30th annual Michigan Social Studies Olympiad! The Olympiad offers students the unique opportunity to creatively apply what they have been learning in their social studies classes. Michigan is the only state to offer this type of state-wide event. We appreciate your willingness to guide and support your students in their Olympiad projects.

Generations of Americans have grappled with the meaning of freedom and equality, and change has often followed the efforts of each. What can 21st century generations add to the quest to make real an America for all people? Good luck exploring this theme and in your preparation for the Olympiad and performance on MAY 14, 2016.

THEME – AMERICA FOR ALL PEOPLE

It could be said that as Americans, we're all in this together. But it could also be said that there is a clear contrast between the American values we share and the realities we live in.

In 2008, America elected a President who championed equality and diversity. Time and again, President Barack Obama made clear that his vision for America required turning the theoretical ideals of democracy, justice, and equality into political, economic, and social realities. The study of Social Studies revolves around the exploration of important issues such as how to achieve this reality, the role government should play, and how far to go. With working towards this reality of justice and equality in mind, students are compelled to explore the 2016 Olympiad theme: America for All People.

What does America for All People mean to you?

Many people feel it is time for critical inquiry and a movement of change in America. Generations past have grappled with the meaning of freedom and equality, and change has followed the efforts of each. President Obama once metaphorically described American democracy “not as a house to be built, but as a conversation to be had.” What can 21st century generations add to the conversation that is American democracy? Are all voices heard in this conversation today? Are any voices missing? Are some too loud? Is everyone listening, thinking, and seeking to understand those whose perspectives differ from theirs? What voice can you bring to the conversation about American for All People?

Civic Perspective

One person, one vote seems like a simple way to ensure all voices are heard in the conversation, but every election cycle, massive campaign resources are directed at a small number of states. The result is inequality in voter turnout, especially among young people, and racial fairness is undermined because these states are disproportionately white. Many Americans also do not have a driver's license or photo ID with current address (non-drivers, recently moved, no access to birth certificate, etc.). How do voter ID laws, campaign finance laws, and other systemic issues prevent Americans from having a voice in the conversation?

Economic Perspective

And who is looking out for the American worker? A single top income of the 1% could buy housing for every homeless person in America. Workers, like everyone, don't have power if they don't have a voice.

What do you see as the relationship between American democracy and values, the government, the economy, and social change?

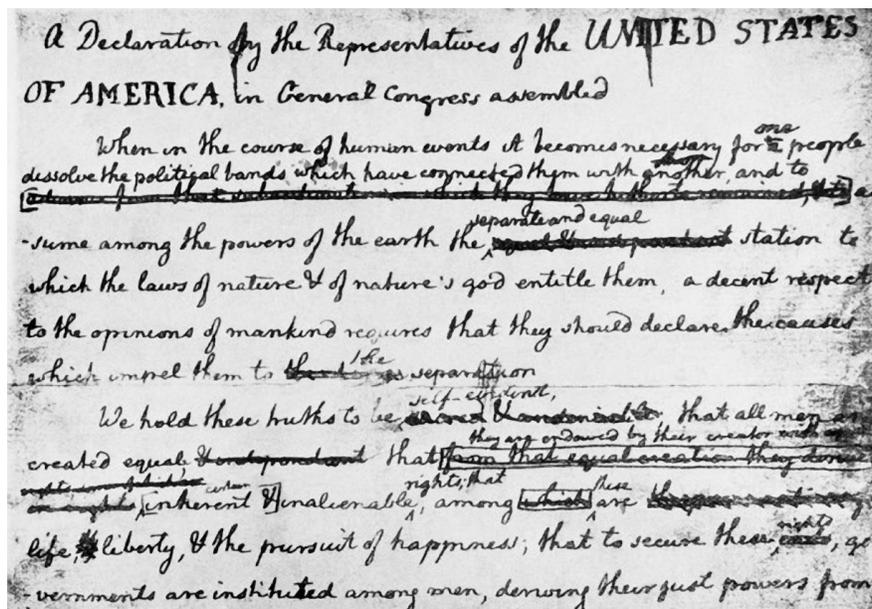

History Perspective

To some, the achievements of the Civil Rights Movement, which followed the victory in the Brown v Board of Education decision, provides a model of social change and has inspired other Americans fighting for equal rights. Consider too the current status of women in the United States. Are their voices being heard on issues focused on improving rights, employment, earnings, opportunities, safety, health and political participation for women in America? How has the conversation about American democracy and equality changed through the years? What voices have entered the conversation and which ones are still in need of being heard?

Geography Perspective

Fifty years ago, the Immigration and Nationality Act became law, and did away with the racially discriminatory national origins quota system. Do immigrants and new citizens throughout the country live in an America responsive to their needs and well-being? Spatial inequalities related to child poverty, access to quality health care, and education are also issues needing a spokesperson in the conversation about America for All People.

In Social Studies we explore what it means to be human, and what it means to be humane. It is with this notion in mind that teachers and students should explore the compelling questions of history, geography, economic, and civics, to unearth for themselves what an America for all people could be and how we might achieve it.

Good luck to all Olympiad participants! See you on May 14th, 2016!

OFF-SITE EVENTS

CURRENT EVENT EDITORIAL ESSAY

Divisions: Intermediate (6-8) and Senior (9-12)

Objective:

Currently, the nation's most influential print editorial pages are found in the New York Times, Wall Street Journal, and Washington Post. Editorial pages are used for purposes of expressing a paper's political leanings, spurring discussion, inciting debate and allowing readers and prominent figures to express their opinions. Many newspapers attempt to keep their editorial pages "balanced", in that they publish competing perspectives in comparable amounts. However, the most prominent editorial pages develop reputations for presenting more of a conservative (e.g., Wall Street Journal) or liberal (e.g., New York Times) stance. Editorial articles are some of the most controversial and most highly circulated news pieces that appear in written media. They have sparked dialogue and helped to formulate public opinion on major public issues. However, too many students are unaware or unconcerned with this section of the newspaper until they reach post-secondary education or jobs after graduation. The objective of this proposed Off-site event is to provide students with exposure to the process of creating an editorial essay.

Overview:

This event is an opportunity for students to write an opinion editorial, in a news media format, based on a current event. The editorial must take the form of a short essay, based on an event or events that have been relatively prominent in news media within the past year. Students will use arguments to promote a specific point of view.

Format:

Students are to produce a written newspaper editorial that expresses a specific point of view on a current event from the past year. Unlike a traditional news piece or informative essay, the purpose of an editorial is to take a biased stand on an issue. The author must use sources to support any facts presented to support the perspective taken in the essay. Prior to writing their first draft, students are advised to explore several editorials from the editorial pages of the New York Times, Wall Street Journal, and Washington Post, or other national and/or local print news sources.

- Only three (3) written essays per school per division may be submitted. Submitted essays will not be returned.
- One (1) copy of the original essay is to be submitted to the judge listed on the next page. Do not send essays in report covers or folders.
- Only Coaches may call for information.
- The top three (3) finalists of each division will be invited to attend the Olympiad to receive their award.

Scoring Standards (all divisions):

1. Central theme of editorial must be a reasonably prominent current event from the past year.
2. Editorial must take a clear stand on an opinion pertaining to the current event.
3. At least three (3) written news pieces must be used as sources for facts presented in the essay. The student may use any amount of other type of sources he/she deems necessary.
4. There must be a title at the top of the first page of the body of the editorial.
5. The essay must be typed in 11 or larger font, double spaced, and using Times New Roman, Ariel, or Calibri font. However, there are no length requirements for the body of the editorial.
6. A separate bibliography page, listing the source of all factual information, must be attached to the end of the editorial. Following the bibliography page, attach a copy of each written news piece used as a source (see standard 3, above).
7. Student and school name should appear only on the entry form used as a cover page.

PHOTOJOURNALISM

Division: Intermediate (6-8) and Senior (9-12)

This event is a wonderful opportunity for the entrant to explore photography and to sharpen writing skills.

FORMAT:

- Mount 5-10 photographs and up to 300 typed words on the front of a 24 x 36 inch sturdy poster board. A foam core board is a good choice. (Use rubber cement glue to survive shipping.)
- For further information contact Raymond Walker at (734) 285-4226.

PHOTOS:

Select entrant's own 4x6 inch color or black and white photos printed on photographic paper. The most economical solution is a 35mm single use flash camera. Use no over-exposed, under-exposed or out of focus shots. Describe photos in captions or in the body of writing accurately (e.g., "1902 Wizbang", or "depicting, recreating or symbolizing the discovery of fire." Not "a photo of the discovery."). Narrow the subject and focus on photo opportunities that support the theme. Arrange the photos in a logical way and copy/decorate as desired. Keep in mind that nothing should distract from the photos.

WRITTEN MATTER:

- Be aware of the difference between reporting fact and opinion and how to support each. Resist the impulse to inject personal feeling unless fully supported with data. Use research other than the computer to retain richer, deeper detail. Personal resources such as clubs, activities and family are good options as supplemental research. Correctly identify personal resources when quoting another source. Consider what your entry might look like if your title and copy were arranged as if printed in a publication such as a news article, magazine article, brochure, pamphlet or newsletter. Captions should be brief, the same size type as the copy; and should not repeat the data in the copy. Revise and edit out ideas that do not accurately reflect theme. Proofread copy for spelling, grammar, and sentence structure.
- Entrant's name, school, division and theme should be typed under the Title/Headline on the poster front as well as on the entry form.
- Each school may submit three entries per division.

REQUIREMENTS:

1. Each entry must have the completed typed form found on the following page affixed to the back of the poster. Please follow the directions on the form. Do not laminate over the form.
2. Entries must be postmarked on or before March 28, 2016.
3. Entries will be judged on the basis of:
 - A. Appropriate use of theme
 - B. Quality of photographs
 - C. Content of writing
 - D. Creativity
4. Entries created by more than one individual will not be judged.

A hand puppet is a puppet that is manipulated by the use of one person's hand. For Elementary Division Only - The head must be constructed of paper-mache. (The paper-mache head may be constructed over various objects such as crushed newspaper, a light bulb, a balloon, etc.) For Intermediate Division Only – Students may choose to construct any type of puppet that requires manipulation of head, arms and/or legs by the student (hand puppet, marionette, etc.).

LIBRARY GRAND PRIX

Senior Division (Grades 9-12)

- Each school may enter 2 pairs (4 students) in the Library Grand Prix. Pairs of students use their library and research skills to locate answers to prepared social studies questions within an allotted time period.
- The object of the competition is to test students' knowledge and their ability to utilize different media center reference resources.
- Clues will be drawn from a variety of online and print Reference Books as well as the Readers Guide to Periodical Literature, Editorial Research Reports, non-fiction, and biography.
- There will be 7-10 clues. All clues will focus on subjects relating to social studies.
- Each clue will be on a separate sheet of paper.
- Teams will have staggered starting times so they do not follow one another too closely.
- Each clue will have two parts (A and B). See sample below.

Coordinator:

olympiad@mcssmi.org

Part A of each clue will consist of a question, which the team must answer. If the team does not know the answer, the team will have to find the answer from any source it can. If the team knows the answer, the team may proceed immediately to Part B. In this way, the competition will favor those students with a strong background in social studies. The answer to Part A will be entered in the clue sheet in the appropriate space.

Part B now knowing the answer to Part A, the team will be directed to a specific reference source and told to locate a specific piece of information that is related to the answer established in Part A. Once this information is located, it too will be entered on the clue sheet in the appropriate space.

After answering Part A and Part B for a given clue, the team will return the completed clue sheet to the main checkout desk and will then pick up the next clue. This procedure will be repeated until the team has completed all clues.

The judge will record each team's overall time (start to finish). The team with the correct answers and the shortest time will be declared the winner.

All reference materials used by competitors must be returned to their proper shelf places. Failure to do so could result in disqualification.

MAPPING MICHIGAN'S PAST

Division: Elementary (Grades 3-5)

What in Michigan's history has impacted America or its people? The Mapping Michigan's Past event is intended to help develop students' knowledge of Michigan history and geography, as well as their map making and presentation skills. Prior to the Olympiad, students will design a map, which tells a story about Michigan's past (e.g., What did the glaciers do? Where did Native American's settle? How did explorer's find out about Michigan? Why did cities develop where they did? How has the automobile industry changed?).

Maps should have a clear historical dimension, but topics dealing with modern history are acceptable. On the day of the Olympiad, students will make a two to three minute presentation explaining their map, and should also make a statement about why the topic is important to people in Michigan today.

The presentation should be made without notes. Students should be aware of the importance of speaking and looking directly at their audience. The audience must hear every word that is said in the presentation.

Maps should be displayed on poster board at least 18" x 24" but not larger than 24" x 36". Commercially produced blank outline maps can be used, and there can be more than one map on the poster board. Title, legend, sources of information, and any text should be visible on the poster board. Pictures can be included. The student MUST write captions and any text. Photocopied maps (other than base maps) or photocopied portions of articles are not acceptable. Maps can be black and white or color, and should have the name and address of the student and the student's teacher on the back.

NOTE: Two students can work together to design and present a map.

No more than two (2) maps per division per school. Contact the event coordinator if your school would like to enter more than two teams and additional teams may be allowed depending on registration numbers.

A Historical monologue is a long speech spoken by only one actor (usually in a play or movie). The speech content and tone must fit the time period and part of the world of the character. Monologues should be focused on one central point, and not simply an autobiographical speech.

- Monologues will be performed at the Michigan Social Studies Olympiad (MSSO) event location.
- Only four (4) monologues per school per division may be entered in the MSSO.
- Each school or class is encouraged to have their own competition and select the monologues for the Olympiad.
- Fictional characters are not acceptable.
- The competing students must do set-up. Adults cannot help in setup of props or give any assistance to the student during the performance.
- Presentation must be memorized, no notes allowed.

SOCIAL STUDIES QUIZ BOWL

All Divisions

Coordinator:

Bruce Brousseau
bruce.brousseau@gmail.com
(313)-882-8103

Division Judges:

Elementary Quiz Bowl – Linda Prieskorn
Intermediate Quiz Bowl – Tom Webb
Senior Quiz Bowl – Steve Domke

Orientation Meeting:

- All judges, readers, and scorekeepers are required to attend an orientation meeting in the host school's media center at 9:10 a.m. on the day of the event.
- Event monitors will answer any final questions at this time.

Important Notes:

- Quiz Bowl participants may not compete in other on-site events.
- Please bring an electronic lockout system to the event and make sure that your system gets set up properly.
- Each team must bring an adult volunteer in order to participate. Coaches sending more than one team to the Quiz Bowl must have an adult volunteer for each team. (Schools may enter multiple teams.)
- Coaches are responsible for getting the rules to their volunteers prior to the Olympiad.
- When all team members are present, the Coach should immediately check in his/her team at the registration table the morning of the Olympiad.
- Parents, coaches and other interested spectators will be allowed in the room during the competition. Event officials will enforce strict "non-interference" rules in their rooms, and violators will be banned from the tournament.
- The Division Judges are the final arbiter in any and all disputes that may arise during the competition.

Rounds:

- There are five (5) rounds: two Preliminary rounds, a Quarterfinal round, a Semifinal round, and the Championship round.
- The first two rounds are considered Preliminary rounds. All teams will play these two rounds. At the end of the second round, all team scores are tabulated and ranked. Only the top eight (8) teams will move on to the single elimination bracket.
- If fewer than eight teams register for an event, the highest ranked team(s) will get a bye in the Quarterfinal round.
- If an odd-number of teams are registered to compete in a division, one team will be randomly selected as the designated "O-team". That team will sit out the first round, and play the team that scored just above the median of the first round of scores in the second qualifying round. The team that scored just below the median in round 1 (i.e., the "B-team") will sit out round 2, and will play the O-team after round 2 using a third set of questions. In the event that two teams score at the median for all scores, a coin toss will be used to determine who will sit out round 2. Total scores for all teams (including the O-team and B-team) will be tabulated to determine the final rankings for all teams.
- If two teams are tied for making the final tournament bracket (i.e., the eighth and ninth seeds finish with the same combined scores), their position will be determined by a five (5) question play off. All five questions are of equal value. The team that answers the most questions correctly will be placed on the single elimination bracket. If the two teams are again tied after the five (5) questions, a tiebreaker question will determine the winner.
- Third place in each division will be determined by a game between the two teams eliminated in the semifinal round.
- The Championship game will determine first & second place

- Degrees of difficulty increase from 5 points to 10, 15, and 20 points for the most challenging questions.

Game Format:

- A. Game competition is between two teams, each team having four (4) players. The same players MUST play all rounds. No alternates or substitutions will be allowed. Each team should designate one player as “Captain” prior to the start of round one.
- B. Each participating school may enter as many teams as they would like in each division in which it has eligible students, but each team must be comprised of four (4) students, and have unique team names.
- C. Each team will play two preliminary rounds. At the conclusion of the second round, scores will be tabulated and ranked. A maximum of eight teams will move on to the Quarterfinal round.
- D. Two teams are seated on opposite sides of a chevron table arrangement.
- E. The Game Chart (categories and degrees of difficulty) is reproduced on the whiteboard or easel, and visible to both teams.
- F. The scorekeeper will record points earned by each team in a place that everyone can see. The scorekeeper will then place an X on the category chart to indicate that the question was used.

At the end of each match the scorekeeper will verify the score with the reader, and record the total points for each team on a “tally sheet”. This tally sheet is then returned to the division judge before the next match.

- G. Individual team members will each hold a button/switch of an electronic lockout device in his/her hand.
- H. The reader will sit facing the two teams and read the questions. If either team challenges an answer, the division judge is the final authority on all questions and answers.
- I. When a game participant believes he/she knows the answer to a question, he/she will hit the switch on the lockout system. At that point, the reader will stop reading the question.
- J. The reader will then request an answer from the player who buzzed in.
- K. Participants will have four (4) seconds to answer the question when recognized by the reader. On all questions, the first answer is the only one accepted.
- L. If the answer is deemed correct, his/her team is awarded the points and the scorekeeper will write the score for that team on the board. That player then may select the next category and degree of difficulty.
- M. If the answer is deemed incorrect, the full question is repeated and members of the other team are given the opportunity to discuss the question, for six (6) seconds, and have their Captain answer the question. If the Captain of the second team’s answer is incorrect, the reader provides the correct answer and the question is discarded with no points awarded to either team.
- N. An answer may be judged correct if it is analogous to the answer on the Answer Key.
- O. When both teams fail to answer a question correctly, the Captain of the team that did NOT select the discarded question, may choose the next question. (category and degree of difficulty)
- P. In case of a tie during the quarterfinal or semifinal rounds, after all questions on the Game Chart are exhausted, the reader will read a “tiebreaker” question. The team answering correctly is NOT awarded points, but is declared the winner.
